It's always a fun to break the rules when it comes to the satisfaction of client who wants something out of the box. We are fortunate to come across Mr. and Mrs. Patel with an idea of their dream home so in regards we came with an idea of inward home. This house reminds us the house of modern periods as it's designed in exposed concrete with a minimalist approach.

The front RCC wall is covering the house with minimum openings but at the same time each and every area is planned in a way that all these leisure activity area are shaded in most of the day time.

Patel Residence Vadodara

The roof is kept slant in a way that the rare side is having open areas and the back side wing is double storied with extreme luxuries and spacious areas.

This house is yet to leave its carbon prints in reality and we expect that we could serve our client with total satisfaction.
